

Stay Green Drought Defense Program™

Is the drought killing your trees and lowering property values?
Stay Green has the solution!

Four years of a punishing drought and restrictive watering is taking its toll on trees in several ways:

- Salt buildup causes plant stress and root burn
- Insect infestations and disease outbreak
- Soil compaction
- Dry soil becomes hydrophobic and hard to properly water

While pine, oak, and sycamore are being hit especially hard, all varieties of trees are being battered by drought conditions and reduced watering.
